Dear Mr. Warren:

I just happened to check the carbon of the letter I sent to you and noticed that really inexplicable mistake with your name. I can only say in excuse of myself that things are very hectic around here right now, and your letter was written late at night when I was in a state of fatigue. Please forgive me, and I hope to hear from you soon.

With every good wish,

Yours Very Sincerely

Mike Thelwell

PS: I have not had an opportunity to read Flood but a friend of mine whoes judgement I respect says it is a good and valuable book. I hope that it meets the critical and public acclaim that he says it merits.
